

Big, IGP Méditerranée, Rouge, 2019

IGP Méditerranée, France

PRESENTATION

Big is a real product of France, home-made in Vaucluse by artisans vignerons. It echoes with la Douce France, strutting under string lights at guinguette dance halls, nibbling at saucisson during a match, setting the world to rights on a terrace, picnicking on the beach and flirting with the towel next door. Big is proud of its tricolour roots where winemaking know-how, a love of our country and the abundance of our wine-growing heritage shine through.

TERROIR

Big was born in the sunshine of a warm and dry Mediterranean climate, protected from the mistral wind by the Dentelles de Montmirail mountains. These climate conditions make it easier to conspire with nature in the winemaking process.

WINEMAKING

This expertly fermented wine displays fine fruit aromas and is naturally balanced. Fermentation methods include daily délestage (rack and return) and cooling of the must. The wine undergoes short maceration (8 days). Ageing is also short to make the most of the wine's intrinsic fruitiness. It is therefore bottled early.

VARIETALS

Grenache noir, Carignan, Mourvèdre

14 % VOL.

TASTING

Smooth and concentrated, Big Coq with aromas of ripe fruit, is wellmade and lively with plenty of finesse.

FOOD PAIRINGS

Very good with a Caesar salad, Chicken soup, fried chicken wings, or with vegetables salads.
